Test Document for Remarkable

This is a simple test document to verify that text content is properly converted to an editable format on the Remarkable tablet.

The key requirements: - Content must be editable on the tablet - Text should be rendered using the Lines font - Document should be properly formatted

When converting web content: 1. Extract the main text content 2. Format it as plain text 3. Use the text_to_remarkable.py script to create a document 4. Upload to the Remarkable tablet

This approach is based on the successful md2rm tool which creates editable content on the Remarkable tablet.
